Transit system woos Illinoisans

By BILL WINTER
Editor

New bus stop shelters are blossoming out all over the Quad-Cities, and the Bi-State Transit System is discussing ways of involving more Illinois residents in partial financing of the bus program.

The issue of increased and improved services is receiving attention as the Bi-State Development Agency ponders ways of trying to balance the transit system's deficit-prone budget by attracting more community-level and county-level subsidies.

It was announced Wednesday that the U. S. Department of Transportation has just approved $11,440,455 in transit assistance grants to Bi-State.

Of this total, $6,579,296 is for purchase of 41 new buses equipped with wheelchair lifts, 32 supervisory vehicles, four maintenance vehicles, office equipment and radio communications equipment; $4,568,616 is for land acquisition, engineering and design of three new buildings as part of a garage modernization program; and $292,546 is for an experimental reduction of downtown St. Louis fares as a way of boosting ridership volume.

Butch & the Raffle Kid

Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid. Folk heroes? Apparent law violators? Yes, to both labels.

But how to categorize Butch Portell and some of his over-enthusiastic reelection campaigners? The question has county and state legal experts thumbing through their law books, wracking their brains and searching their instincts, prejudices and consciences.

Raffle tickets sold at Circuit Clerk Willard "Butch" Portell's office offer the possibility of a "bushel of booze and four beautiful home-made quilts" for a $1 "donation."

Nearly everyone seems to think it's something a candidate shouldn't do, under Illinois statutes. But hardly anyone seems to know precisely what to do about such fund-raising activities.

Portell said Tuesday he knew nothing about a raffle, and suggested that many

24-hour weekend Talk-A-Thon

Area citizens band radio clubs will sponsor their annual 24-hour "CB Talk-A-Thon" to aid the March of Dimes fight against birth defects Friday and Saturday, Barbara Downing, project coordinator, announced today.

Last year, CB club members raised a total of $9,130 from the talk-a-thon and related projects sponsored by the individual clubs.

All proceeds are earmarked for research work in the area of birth defects and for support services provided by the Metro East

Chapter of the National March of Dimes Foundation.

The event starts at 6 p.m. Friday and continues for 24 consecutive hours until 6 p.m. Saturday.

During that period, CB club members talk over the airwaves, using different channels in various communities, seeking support for the March of Dimes.

Pledges are then made by the listeners who call central locations where March of Dimes volunteers are stationed for the duration of the talk-a-thon.

In the Granite City, Madison, Venice, Mitchell and Pontoon Beach areas, the talk-a-thon will be conducted over CB Channel 7, with pledges being accepted at 876-5660.

Channel 13 will be used in the Edwardsville region, with pledges going to 1-692-0888.

In the Wood River-Alton-Roxana area, the campaign will be heard over Channel 13, with callers pledging amounts at 1-254-7482, or 1-254-7483.

As a grand finale to the 1979 talk-a-thon, participants will gather Nov. 16 at the VFW Club in Collinsville for an awards dinner, Mrs.

Downing said.

At that time, recognition will be accorded to area CB clubs raising the most money for this very worthwhile cause, she added.

BURGLARY ON GRAND

A television set, a radio, a tape player, a film projector, speakers, tape recordings and jewelry were stolen during a burglary at the home of Janice Hoffman, 2314 Grand Ave., early this week. The front door was pried open to gain entry.

Religious approach to weight loss

"We use a variety of methods in our Christian weight loss program in an attempt to answer one of our nation's critical health problems," reports the Rev. Don F. Pierson, pastor of Nameoki Presbyterian Church. "Shedding pounds and putting them right back on has created an army of 'diet trans' going from one temporary solution to another."

In response to this kind of research, the local pastor is attempting to design a life-style approach rather than a particular diet.

"Learning how to live means more than learning a new diet and requires a large measure of self-understanding, which we attempt to provide."

"Accepting responsibility for our own decisions and commitment to a fellowship of concern" are among the basic assumptions of the pastor's weight loss approach.

"Decision, discipline, and discipleship" are combined with the strength of group reinforcement, he relates.

"The Weight Inn" meets each Monday at 7 p.m. in the Nameoki Presbyterian Church at 1700 Pontoon Road. A welcome is being extended to those interested in "a Christian approach to this widespread health problem. The chocking in and sharing program lasts from 30 to 45 minutes," he adds.

Pastor Pierson himself has dropped a large number of pounds in recent months.

KC candy sale for retarded in area Friday, Saturday

Knights of Columbus Days for the Mentally Retarded will be held in the Quad-City area Friday and Saturday, Nov. 2 and Nov. 3, it was announced by Grand Knight T. A. Feeler.

To help all Illinois adults and children who are mentally disabled, the Knights of Columbus councils throughout Illinois will sponsor their annual 'Tootsie Roll Candy Sales' with all proceeds going to this worthy cause," Feeler said.

For the sixth consecutive year, members of the Tri-Cities Knights of Columbus Council 1098 will spearhead the drive in this area, under the leadership of Robert J. Palus, chairman, the grand knight announced.

"We need all the help we can get," Palus said, urging anyone interested in assisting to contact him at 876-8888 or co-chairman John Jakich at 931-3924.

"Every penny, dime and dollar is needed and will be deeply appreciated," Palus said.

The chairman noted that Illinois Governor James R. Thompson and Chicago Mayor Jayne Byrne have signed proclamations setting aside the two dates for the candy sales.

Palus said the Illinois Association for Retarded Citizens and its 100 member units are assisting in the coordination of the fund raising program by providing "community awareness services and manpower."

Financial assistance is provided by the Illinois State Council of the Knights of Columbus to enable visits throughout the state by the Leadmobile unit.

The unit, equipped with testing devices for the detection of lead poisoning, recently visited the Quad-City area to test local school children.

Members of the Knights of Columbus in Illinois raised more than $700,000 last year to aid the mentally retarded, Palus said.

"This year we have set a goal of $800,000 for the state," the local chairman said, noting that the Tri-Cities Council has collected more than $24,400 in the six years the program has been carried out here.

The principal beneficiaries from the local drive, indicated.

The Tri-City Association for Mentally Retarded; The Organization Assisting the Handicapped (OATH, Inc.); Madison County Association for Mentally Retarded; a Boy Scout troop for handicapped youths; and special schools for retarded citizens and special aids to help them.

Palus said the late Monsignor Lawrence Mattingly of St. Elizabeth Church was president of OATH at the time of his death and was an avid supporter of the OATH program for some years.

It also was noted the past president of the county association is a Granite City resident and that the county group assists many local residents.

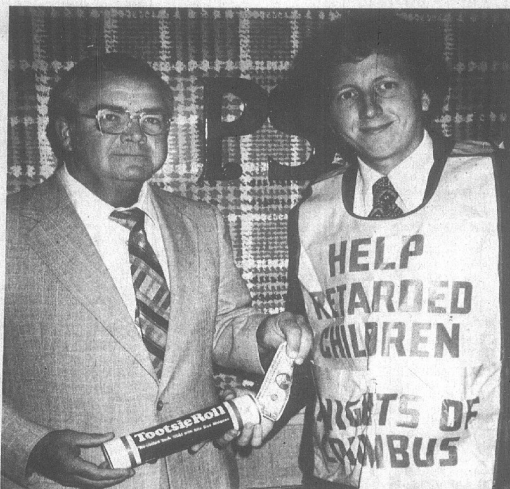

Each beneficiary of funds is checked to confirm that all financial gifts are used to help area children and adults, Palus said.

All mentally retarded persons need the support of the general public, so they can develop into productive and contributing members of society, the drive chairman stated.

The Knights of Columbus volunteers will be easily visible in the drive, and Saturday, Palus said.

All will wear bright yellow aprons and carry a Tootsie Roll canister and the candy, he added.

"No donations will be too small, so please give what you can afford. It will be put to good use and deeply appreciated," Palus stressed.

FIRST CONTRIBUTION to the annual Knights of Columbus Candy sale for mentally retarded is made by Mayor Paul Schuler, left, to Bob Palus, KC chairman of the event. The drive will be held Friday and Saturday throughout the Quad-City area. Knights of Columbus volunteers will wear bright yellow ribbons and carry a Tootsie Roll canister and the candy. Diplomatic Olympics—our amateurs vs. Soviet pros

(Joseph Galloway recently completed a three year assignment in Moscow as chief correspondent and manager of United Press International's bureau. The following are some of his reflections upon the Soviet Union, its people and relations with the United States, which he presented to the UPI Advisory Board on Oct. 6 in Houston.)

The Soviet Union remains one of the toughest assignments any reporter can draw.

Winston Churchill said long ago that Russia was a riddle inside a puzzle wrapped in an enigma. That remains an apt and accurate description.

Peeling back even one of those layers for a brief look underneath is the task of every foreign diplomat and journalist in Moscow.

Remaining a hermetically sealed secret system is the prime task of the Soviet Communist Party and Government.

By careful sifting of the controlled press, by cooperating and sharing with other reporters, by exchanging information with the diplomatic community, by maintenance and use of the best possible filing system by cautiously tapping the few mostly suspect Russian sources, and finally and perhaps most importantly developing a sixth sense as to how the Russians will move or react in a given situation, the Moscow Press Corp survives, learns, judges and then writes.

All of this goes on while you ride the roller coaster of Soviet-American relations. The ups on those relations don't open any Kremlin doors but they can ease the tension and paranoia of life in Moscow.

The downs can frost your personal pumpkin instantly. Opening up and your staff and their families to the crudest actions of the KGB dirty tricks department can devise, as witness recent druggings of an American reporter and several diplomats.

When one of those "down" periods comes—and there will be a real dilly should the Senate fail to ratify the new Salt Treaty—the American press, business and diplomatic community circles up the wagons and hunkers down for the siege.

I am proud to say that during my three years in Moscow I know of no American journalist who let the ups and downs, and the attendant personal risks, affect his reporting.

In Moscow as perhaps in no other world capital, an American reporter must choose the high road and walk it firmly, steadily and without flinching.

You represent a nation, a system of government and its reflection which are all anathema in the eyes of the Soviet Machine.

That brilliant philosopher Pogo once said, "We have met the enemy and he is us."

In Moscow, an American reporter is left in no doubt of the truth of that.

He can't win any popularity contests. He won't receive any friendly leaves from the top.

only equal in the game or superpower diplomacy—and a historic memory within the American bureaucracy of the rules of doing business with a tough, unchanging opponent—are vital prerequisites for a nation which has gone through five presidents in less than twenty years.

During that period the Soviet Union has changed its supreme leader only once. It has the same foreign minister it has had since 1957.

The same Soviet Ambassador has sat in Washington throughout all those years.

Their memory is long and their negotiating tactics have been honed to a fine edge.

Another change in the supreme Soviet leader draws near. President Brezhnev, in poor health, may last another year or two.

His departure will not open up any room for an American maneuvering. These will not be the kind of changing of the guard that tends the departure of Gerry Ford and the arrival of a Jimmy Carter.

Premier Kosygin will still be running the Government ministries.

Foreign Minister Gromyko will be ready to teach his 12th or 13th American secretary of state the fine old art of stonewalling.

And Ambassador Dobrynin will probably stay in the same old stand in Washington.

Against this rigidity of purpose, stolidity, this historical memory and experience, the United States must send its best and its most experienced.

We cannot afford years of on-the-job training and trial-and-error education for each new Washington administration.

They say there are no atheists in foxholes. I can add one to that. There are no liberals in Moscow.

In the Kremlin, you can expect a year or so of collective leadership, a troika as you had after the death of Stalin and the departure of Khrushchev. Why? Because that's the way it was done then and it worked.

It gave the politburo a smooth transition period, a chance to avoid the appearance of any cracks in the granite wall.

Why? Because that's the way it was done then and it worked.

He won't be a young man. His accession to power will not signal a generational change.

He will have risen slowly through the ranks of the Soviet Communist Party, and his interest and that of his closest colleagues will be aimed at protecting and strengthening the system which brought them to the top.

His urge to compete with the United States, to best the United States in ways small and large, will be no less than that of his predecessor.

Home rehabilitation applications studied

Wage verification statements of approximately 30 applicants for housing rehabilitation assistance in Venice have been sent to the Social Security Administration.

Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols said when the applications are returned, the final applications, based on specific guidelines, then will be sent to the Madison County Community Development (CD) committee for final approval.

Echols said that when the applications are approved by the county committee the work would then be advertised for bids.

A meeting to review procedures was held in Venice last week.

The maximum amount of money that will be granted for repairs to one structure is $7,500.

However, Mayor Echols said that should repair bills run over on a selected structure, the individual can apply for a small interest loan for the difference between the $7,500 and the cost of the rehabilitation.

It has been reported by CD officials that about $100,000 is available for housing rehabilitation from last year and another $55,000 has been made available for 1979.

An estimated $85,000 is expected to be allotted July 1 of this year.

Dying also need to help society

By TOMMYE WALTER

Charles Corr, professor of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, believes the dying must have a way of contributing something to society to keep their feelings of self-respect and worth.

He thinks the need to have something to contribute to a relationship becomes doubly important as debilitating circumstances narrow or close the normal avenues to giving.

"It is important for dying people to have some sense of value and meaning to their lives — to be able to give something to other people and not be wholly receiving," Corr said. "They must have some small area of independence and control over their lives to be happy," he added.

The administrators at St. Luke's Hospice in Sheffield, England, have developed several ways of maintaining the self-respect and self-worth of their residents. One therapeutic activity involves weaving borders around serving trays.

Today there are at least eight of these trays being put into use in the St. Clair-Madison counties area. They belong to six nurses, a social worker, and a nun who spent two weeks last summer working in the wards of St. Luke's.

A hospice is a care center for terminally ill people. Corr refers to them "not as places to go and die, but places that try to maximize the quality of life remaining."

The trays were woven for the SUE group on a rush-order basis by outpatients at the hospice. "One of the outpatients took a bunch of them home with him and made them up so each of the Americans could have one as a memento of the trip," Corr said.

"At least he was not sitting at home, chewing on his illness."

The story of how the English serving trays found their way to the Midwest began over two years ago when Corr, who teaches a course on death and dying, realized he would be a better instructor if he had firsthand knowledge on the subject.

Through arrangements worked out by the SUE School of Humanities, he was able to spend the summer of 1978 at St. Luke's Hospice working in the wards and collecting data for a research project.

This summer, Corr was able to return to the hospice as the leader of a travel and education group of eight women whose professions deal with caring for the ill. The participants earned continuing education units and had an opportunity to earn regular college credit in the humanities.

Looking back on the experience, Corr said, "Chances are the patients who handicrafted the trays are now either in-patients at the hospice or they are no longer among the living."

Life is extremely short for residents of St. Luke's. The life expectancy there is 14 to 21 days.

"Men seldom stay over two weeks, the majority of them suffering from lung cancer," he said. Women manage to stay alive a bare week longer. Their chief ailment is breast cancer. "It is slower," Corr said.

time and the outservice takes care of 10 to 15 patients each week.

Coming in once a week for care enables them to stay in the community. "Above all, it allows them to get out of the house and away from the family. And it gives the family a rest from caring for them," Corr said.

"The day care unit usually gets people who are in substantial pain or troubled with other distressing symptoms that accompany terminal illness, along with those whose care-giving systems are inadequate or inappropriate for them."

"In addition to their physical needs, the dying people need social support. They are often living alone or are not very mobile. They need human contact — the chance to get out and get involved in some meaningful activity."

"While the Americans were there, 17 people died. We went through a very hard time. The authorities admitted it was unusual that so many people died in such a short time."

"Some people enter the hospital and die quickly. Others linger."

"There was only one patient from the previous summer's visit still there. He has a very slow progressive brain tumor."

"Although the residents are aware they don't have much more time, they don't give up. They don't feel they should quit just because they are dying," Corr said. The professor cited a patient by the name of Gladys as an example.

"A real fighter, a lady who didn't show she was sick, Gladys was not only involved in making her own last days as rewarding as possible, she tried to enrich the lives of those about her."

"She was actually proving to the people coming into the day care center that it wasn't too bad to be a patient. She showed them that maybe dying wasn't the worst thing that could happen."

"She always looked forward to playing games. In the stacked game of life, it's also essential for a 'loser' to have some winning moments."

"Winning gives the patient a sense of accomplishment at a time when there are not many goals left to strive for."

Some Alton lock closings possible

All navigation interests are being advised that construction activities related to the installation of two steel pipe pile dolphins in the lower guideway extension have been initiated at 7 a.m. and Dam 26, Alton.

Installation of the pile dolphins will be followed by repair work on the damage sheet pile berm in the guideway extension.

Construction activities will continue Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., until all contract work items are completed.

Construction equipment and floating plant located on the landside of the guideway extension, and all operations will be performed from this location with minimal disruption to traffic.

It is anticipated that unscheduled short-term closures of the main lock may be required in conjunction with this work. In addition, directional flow of traffic may be altered at a later date to protect the work in progress, particularly the repair work on the damaged cell.

Short-term closures and directional restrictions will be at the direction of the lockmaster. Advance notification of other restrictions will be provided in future special notices to navigation interests.

James A. Peterson, chief of the Operations Division, St. Louis Engineers District, said, "All interests are alerted to these construction activities and are requested to exercise extreme caution while operating in the lower approach to the locks."

"It is further requested that all boat pilots abide by any special instructions issued by the lockmaster during the course of this work."

Drivers can renew licenses up to one year in advance

Alan J. Dixon said this week his Secretary of State office is available to make conditions safer and more convenient during winter months for Illinois motorists to renew their driver licenses.

Renewal notices now are being mailed to drivers 45 days before expiration date, but all drivers may renew their license up to one year in advance of the expiration, avoiding ice and snow.

"Many drivers whose birthdays come during cold and bad weather months have called my attention to this disadvantage," Dixon said.

"Even if a road test is not required for renewal, they must drive to the facility for a photo, often on hazardous street and road conditions."

Secretary of State license facility employees will complete an application upon request up to one year prior to expiration date.

This service is also available to persons, who usually are out of town when their driver license expires, Dixon said.

364-day sentence

Gary L. Nance, 19, Wood River, has been sentenced to serve 364 days in the state correctional facility at Vandalia after pleading guilty to battery.

Nance allegedly beat Michael G. Caters, 18, of 1708 near Cleveland Blvd., while both were prisoners in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville Oct. 14.

Caters suffered a cut to the back of his head which required eight sutures and a cut to his cheek needing six sutures. A spokesman for the Madison County sheriff's office, Chief of Detectives Robert Hertz, noted the county state's attorney's office authorized the misdemeanor battery complaint when evidence indicated a fist was used to injure Caters, but not a can, as originally reported to jailers.

"Our office is pleased with the outcome of this case and we do feel it was handled properly by the state's attorney's office," Hertz concluded.

MR. AND MRS. TIM PENDERGAST. They were married Sept. 8 at First Presbyterian Church. The bride is the former Miss Beth Ann Thomas, the daughter of Gina Thomas of Granite City and the late William Thomas.

Beth Thomas marries Tim L. Pendergast

Miss Beth Ann Thomas, daughter of Mrs. Gina Thomas, 2518 Ivy Lane, and the late William D. Thomas, became the bride of Tim L. Pendergast, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pendergast of Columbus, Ohio, on Sept. 8 at the First Presbyterian Church, Granite City.

The Rev. David Maxton officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with tapered burning candles and multi-colored fall flowers. Each pew was decorated with greenery and lighted candles.

Organist Isabel Schmidt accompanied the soloist, Melanie Asadorian, who sang "If," "Evergreen," "Time in a Bottle," "Wedding March," "Lord's Prayer" and "Morning Has Broken."

The bride was given in marriage by her godfather, Nick Tanase. For the wedding, she chose an elegant gown of ivory satin chignon with a quillman neckline and long fitted sleeves coming to a point at the wrist.

The bodice and back of the gown that went into a peplum were covered with alencon lace and seed pearls. Alencon lace flowed down the front of the gown and swept into a cathedral train. She wore a matching fingertip veil with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of ivory roses and baby breath.

Mrs. Suzanne Harris, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a pink tulle gown with halter neckline, pleated skirt and a chignon poucho edged in satin ribbon. Her only hairpiece was a large silk flower in pink. She carried a bouquet of pink and burgundy roses and baby breath.

The attendants were Lisa Novosel, Cindy Davis, Sandy Stein and Pam Riess. They chose identical gowns in burgundy. Their hairpieces were also silk flowers to match their gowns, and they carried bouquets of burgundy and pink roses with baby breath.

Jennifer Harris, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a gown identical to that of the matron of honor in pink, with a silk flower in her hair, and carried a basket of rose petals.

The groom chose his brother, Rick Pendergast, as best man. Groomsmen included Bill and David Thomas, brothers of the bride, Tom Fritz of Columbus and Greg Hart of New York. Brian Allaria, a cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

For the daughters wedding, Mrs. Thomas chose a floor-length gown in pistachio green with a matching orchid corsage. Candelights were Scott and David Harris, nephews of the bride. Usherettes were Vickie Jarrett and Janet Janek. Mrs. Dorothy Ronk and Miss Lori Houser attended the guest book.

The wedding reception following the ceremony was held at the Polish Hall, Madison.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Granite City High School North and attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for three years, majoring in recreation. She is presently employed as an executive secretary for Mecantite Mortgage Co., St. Louis.

Her husband is a 1973 graduate of Franklin Heights High and a 1975 graduate of the Columbus School of Electronics. He is employed as a primary electrical foreman for Granite City Steel.

The couple is now residing in Granite City. Out-of-town guests came from Indianapolis, Atlanta, Albany, N.Y., and Columbus.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Kathleen Cross wed to David Ruebhausen

Miss Kathleen D. Cross and David D. Ruebhausen were united in marriage in a candlelight ceremony at First United Presbyterian Church. Bouquets of white and blue silk roses and carnations adorned the altar as the Rev. David B. Maxton officiated at the double ring ceremony Aug. 25.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cross of Granite City. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Dean Ruebhausen.

Organist Isabel Schmidt accompanied vocalists Mrs. Kenny Crawford and Larry Heagy, who also played the guitar. Songs were "Time In A Bottle," "Evergreen," "Sunrise, Sunset," "The Wedding Song" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Selections played on the organ were "Now Thank We All Our God," "Devotion," "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "Bridal March" and "Wedding March."

The bride selected a gown of white English net, point d' spirit, re-embroidered Alencon lace and seed pearls.

The high neckline of sheer English net, bodice and sleeves were enhanced with point d' spirit matching lace and seed pearls.

From an Empire bodice, a silhouette skirt of English net fell gracefully to the floor with appliques of Alencon lace throughout the skirt and attached chapel train.

A crystal-pleated flounce of point d' spirit accented the hemline.

A scalloped veil of bridal illusion, Alencon lace and a Juliet style cap completed the ensemble.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white and blue silk roses, carnations, lilies of the valley, stephanotis, azaleas and baby breath.

Maid of honor was Miss Deanne Ruebhausen, a sister of the groom. Bridesmaids were Jolene Fedora, Christy Lombardi, Debbie Zedolek and Lisa Wright.

They were identically styled gowns of pale blue tulle with short fitted jackets. Each carried a white wicker basket filled with white and blue silk carnations, roses and baby breath.

Flower girl Lori Pascoe wore a pale blue dotted Swiss gown and carried a white wicker basket with red rose petals.

Best man was Ron Ruebhausen, a cousin of the groom. Groomsman were Rich Woods, Kenny Crawford, Brad Cross, a brother of the bride, and Dave Dombek.

Don Greer and Jim Nichols seated the guests. Ring bearers were Jeffrey and Jeremy Nichols.

Candlelighters were David and Gary Apperson.

Mrs. Cross, the bride's mother, wore a pink tulle gown with matching jacket and she carried a pink silk rose corsage on her corsage.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Ruebhausen, chose a butterscotch tulle gown and a cream silk rose corsage.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted at Roustio's Restaurant by the groom's parents.

4 records by hot mill in October

The fourth production record of the month by Granite City Steel's 59-inch Hot Strip Mill was achieved on Tuesday. The mill crews produced the highest tonnage ever in a 24-hour period by rolling 13,123 tons on Oct. 30. That beat the old record of 13,022 tons rolled on March 27, 1979.

A key production unit at GC Steel, the Hot Strip Mill rolls steel slabs into coil form.

"This type of team effort proves once again how, by working together, we can make our mill one of the top hot mills in the country."

Harry Truman memorial ceremonial by Shriners

General Lyman L. Lemnitzer, the military expert who sneaked into Switzerland and helped put together the 1945 armistice with the Germans, will be the guest of Ainal Temple at its fall Shriner ceremonial Nov. 17 honoring a former Noble of Ainal, the late President Harry S. Truman.

Richard H. "Dick" Ervay of Granite City, potentate of the 600 nobles of Ainal, has announced the Lemnitzer visit.

"Since our Legion of Honor Unit, which is composed of veterans, will host the day, we expect one of the largest turnouts of nobles at the Temple in many years," Ervay said today.

Truman and Lemnitzer both became 33rd Degree Masons, the general a noble of Almas Shrine Temple in Washington, D.C.

Truman was grand master of Masons in Missouri in 1940-41 after having served as worshipful master earlier. Truman also was a Royal Arch Mason, as well as lodge secretary.

Gen. Lemnitzer is a member of the Knights Templars and the Scottish Rite, and is also a Soujourner.

The general is a member of St. John's Lutheran Church of Honesdale, Penn., where he was born and still lives.

Ainal Temple will have many guests arriving Nov. 17 from many other temples. Some of the imperial officers of the Shrine have shown a desire to be present, if their other commitments permit.

Potentate Ervay has plans for the more than 200 nobles who will be present for the occasion. They will start their day with a tour of the Shrine Hospital for Crippled Children, St. Louis Unit.

This 8 a.m. departure from the temple to the hospital will be the start of the Shriners and its philanthropy for the new nobles.

They will return in time for lunch, and then after lunch the work will start in earnest. By 4 p.m., they will have been made a part of Ainal, and will see some of the units in action.

Then comes the grand entry, and the meeting of the officers' divan, plus a chance to listen to the general.

Following this, the new nobles will receive their fez and dues cards, and then retire to the dining room for dinner before departure for home throughout Southern Illinois.

Gen. Lemnitzer headed the North Atlantic Treaty Organization for many years and is considered an authority on the SALT arms control treaty.

Today in the Granite City area we have Cost Cutters, Cost Cutter Specials, Cost Cutter Bonus Buys, Sooper Cost Cutters, Warehouse Specials, Everyday Real Values, Manufacturer Rebates, Super Specials, Super Everyday Prices, etc., along with thousands of signs and banners telling you about them. It's an advertising agency dream and a consumer nightmare. Which of these prices are really the lowest? Who knows? What do you believe?

At Cohen's, we don't have a fancy promotional name for our prices. We're not big enough to buy expensive TV advertising time trying to convince you that some new "fancy name" prices are really the lowest in town.

We invite you to step back from all the Hoopla and come into Cohen's. Compare our prices. We think you'll agree that COHEN'S PRICES COMPARE WITH any of the above "fancy name" prices.

Secretaries honor Cottrell as 1979 boss of the year

The Tri-Cities Chapter of the National Secretaries Association, International, held its 16th annual "executive night" on the Lt. Robert E. Lee, the theme being "A Night on the Levee."

The newly chosen boss of the year is Harry L. Cottrell, who is general manager of Madison Metal Decorating Company, located in the Stephen Maeras Industrial Park in Madison.

He has been with the company for 21 years and has served in his present capacity for the past eight years.

Cottrell lives at Dunlap Lake in Edwardsville with his wife, Marilyn, and daughter, Julie.

He is a longtime member of the local Chamber of Commerce and the National Metal Decorators' Association.

The past honored bosses

and the year in which they were selected are as follows:
C. P. Whitehead, 1964;
Nicholas R. Brink, 1965;

Harry Thebeau, 1966; Larry Sidener, 1967;
Walter Elliott, 1968; Mrs. Mary Sedekum, 1969; David Read, 1970; Elroy Rule, 1971; Norman LeTourneau, 1972; Paul Hatfield, 1973.

Venice Mayor William M. Ebersoldt, 1974; Eugene Verdu, 1975; Larry Sidener, 1976; L. E. Lindsay, 1977; and Tom Thebeau, 1978.

The presentation to Cottrell was made by Tom Thebeau.

Entertaining for the evening was the St. Louis Ragtime Trio.

Co-chairmen of the event were Twila Edmonds of State Farm Insurance Co. and Helen Gieselmann of Madison Metal Decorating.

Fights, eggs, vandalism mar GC Halloween night

Halloween 1979, from a police standpoint, was slightly busier than normal, police reports from the night shift indicate.

Fortunately, the dangerous prank of putting pins and foreign substances in candy diminished this year, but there were more fights and disturbances than usual, officers believe. The warm weather which led to outdoor gatherings was blamed as one of the causes.

There were 24 offense cards at the Granite City police department this morning for the 24 hour period which ended at 4 a.m. today, including broken windows, egg throwers (with the price of eggs today?), and disturbances among friends and ex-friends.

One serious incident occurred during 13-year-old Debra Green, 2809 Wayne Ave., was trick-or-treating with a friend at Fortune Drive and Wilson Avenue at 8 p.m. last night and a older dark-colored auto containing four or five youths passed. Someone threw something from the car which struck Miss Green in the back of the head, knocking her to the ground.

She was able to walk home, but her parents took her to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where a possible skull fracture and concussion were diagnosed and she was transferred to Cardinal Glennon Children's Hospital, St. Louis, where she was admitted for observation.

There was one report of a straight pin found in a piece of candy, filed by the mother of a boy who lives in the 3000 block of Marshall Avenue, but police are surprised. "I never heard of one incident. If someone was doing that we normally would have had dozens of reports in that area," one officer noted.

The child had been trick-or-treating in the Willow, Wilson, Ash, Elm, Edgewood and Glen Drive area.

Numerous incidents of egg throwing were reported, but only one incident led to arrests. At 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Simon Bogosian, 901 Niedringhaus Ave., reported a white car had passed and an egg struck his front door. Police stopped a car of the same description on St. Louis Avenue moments later and found eggs in the car. Bogosian alleged the youths in the car were the ones who threw an egg at his house.

Charged with disorderly conduct were John D. Chepley, 18, and Mark A. Chepley, 17, both of 1729 Spruce St., Jeffrey W. Taylor, 19, of 2509 Madison Ave., and two juvenile boys, ages 14 and 16. The juveniles were released to their parents on notices to appear before juvenile authorities and the three older boys were released on $35 cash bond each.

At 11 p.m., police noticed two autos on the parking lot of the Kroger store on Nameoki Road with six youths walking near them. Two of the youths began fighting and a second police car was called in to help break up the gathering.

Charged with fighting were Guy W. Carroll, 18, of 2732 National Ave., and Danny L. Stephens, 18, of 2008 Garfield Ave. They also were charged with criminal trespass to property, since the Kroger lot is posted, "No trespassing."

Also charged with trespassing on the lot were Thomas A. Niesciur, 17, of 3415 Lydia Lane, Mark E. Price, 18, of 25 Devon Hill Lane, John M. Amtmann, 18, of 2204 Glen Drive, and Randall E. Mouldon, 17, of 1940 Joy Ave.

Loyce Madison, 3247 Westchester, reported she left her children in her station wagon in her driveway for a few moments and a creme-colored auto stopped behind it. A young woman got out and broke the rear window of the station wagon, then returned to her car and drove away toward the dead end.

Mrs. Madison backed her station wagon into the street, blocking it, but the creme-colored car turned around and drove through the yards to go around Mrs. Madison's vehicle.

Later, about midnight, a blue Vega stopped in Mrs. Madison's driveway and someone threw a beer bottle through the front window of the house. The victim was not at home at the time.

Several other fights and incidents were reported earlier in the afternoon and evening, but were not considered "Halloween-related" by officers.

Witches, monsters strut their stuff in downtown parade

By BILL WINTER

Editor

A comical witch? A best dressed pig? These and other characters and caricatures caught the eyes of judges Lionel Portell and David Nolan last night on Niedringhaus Avenue as entrants in the annual Moose Lodge 272 Halloween parade marched through downtown Granite City.

Bizarre and colorful, frightening and friendly, costumes running the gamut from unusual to traditional were modeled by young and old, mostly young.

The ghouls and goblins proceeded southward from the City Hall area and advanced along State Street, 19th Street and Edison Avenue back to the starting point.

Nine major prizes and 40 honorable mention awards were given out after the parade. Judged as best dressed was Miss Piggy, Donetta Teachnor, 2823 W. 22nd St. Most original was Nikki Tate, 26 Victoria Drive, attired as a mouse. Most comical was a witch, Tammy Wroten, 1822 Spruce St.

Second and third-place award recipients, in that order, were: Best costume category, Cookie Monster, Sheila Noel, 1811 Spruce St., and a chicken, Teresa Townsend, 2151 Grand Ave.

Most original, clown, Stacey Harrison, 1926 Fifth St. E. Madison, and Robin and Erin Cain, 2425 Glen Place.

Most comical costumes, King Kong, Eric Gray, 2043A Edison Ave., 2nd; and 3rd, Miss Piggy and Bert, Lorette and Joshua, Underwood, 2833 Circle D Drive.

LOWER COSTS MEAN LOWER PRICES ON MORE THAN 9,000 NAME BRAND PRODUCTS

With today's spiraling inflation the old saying "YOU DON'T GET ANYTHING FOR NOTHING" is especially true . . . that's why at SHOP 'N SAVE WAREHOUSE foods we believe it's important that you know why we are the only food store in town that can offer savings of up to 20% on over 9,000 name brand products.

HERE'S WHY...

*We have a minimum of price marking. A tag on the shelf tells you the price you pay. And our new IBM electronic registers identify and charge the correct price. OES Chapter 650 honors officers

Granite Chapter 650, Order of Eastern Star, honored officers and initiated three at its meeting last week in the Masonic Temple.

Expressions of appreciation were offered by Worthy Matron Donna Kagy and Worthy Patron Joseph Wilbrey Jr. to grand lecturers, past grand officers, board members, past matrons and patrons and grand chapter committee members.

Mrs. Kagy read a short skit to remind current officers what their responsibilities mean to members. She also commended each for her or his dedication and willingness to help the chapter.

An initiation ceremony was conducted for Mrs. Shirley Pulley, Mrs. Mary Hancock and Mrs. Arline Paula Tadlock, who were welcomed by Mrs. Kagy and Betty McClintock, instructress.

Mrs. Kagy reported visiting with Mrs. Golda Thornburg to present a 50-year pin from the chapter.

Serving as protom officers for the meeting were Mary Petrosian, Esther; Rachel Larsen, organist; Charles Youngs, warder; and Dorothy Brokaw, marshal. Mrs. Lela McDuffy, a chapter member now residing in Alaska, has become the mother of a son, it was announced.

An election of officers is planned at the next meeting when committee members also will be honored. All were urged to attend.

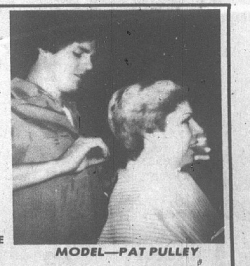

Decorations appropriate to Halloween were used in the dining room and each person was presented a "trick or treat" sack holding a treat.

The hostess committee consisted of Mrs. Mary Bilbrey, Mary Ellen Lewis, Jerry and Bonnie Fisher, Betty Gritz, Ruth Cox, Bertha Frith, Orlene Baker and Mrs. McClintock.

Lions mobilize eye donor program

Granite City Lions Club President Jack Hill has appointed Immediate Past President Jim Miller Jr., 2444 Delmar Ave. to serve as Eye Donor Chairman for the Granite City Club.

Madison Lions President John Belcoff announced that Bill Gushleff, 1671 Fourth St., Madison, as the club chairman.

Dr. George Goodwin,

Pontoon Beach Lions Club president, has announced that Jerry Morgan, 10 Jones Park, Pontoon Beach, has been appointed to serve as chairman for the Pontoon Beach Club.

The Illinois Lions Eye Donor Registry Program is being brought to the Quad-Cities in cooperation between the area Lions Clubs and St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

St. Elizabeth Medical Center will become an official Lions of Illinois Eye Donor Center. Eyes that are willing to the Lions after death will be enucleated (removed) by one of the four specially-trained qualified enucleation technicians of the University of Illinois Department of Ophthalmology, sponsored by the Lions of Illinois Foundation.

The eyes then would be transported by volunteer Lion couriers to the Lions Eye Bank at the McMillan Hospital in St. Louis to be used for eye transplant or medical research.

The first phase of this new program will be the placement of Eye Donor Registry cards in strategic locations where they will be readily available to the general public. The Quad-City Lions presidents have announced a joint areawide pledge drive for the weekend of Nov. 16, 17 and 18.

Lions of the three clubs will man major stores and banks in the area to register new eye donors for the program.

Chairman Donald D. Patrick said that the three clubs intentionally chose the weekend before the Thanksgiving holiday. "This is a symbolic weekend," said Patrick. "Those of us that can see should be thankful that we have sight and be willing to pass this precious gift on to others after death."

"Eyes will be used for corneal transplants and research," said Patrick. "There are always more requests for eyes from physicians than the eye banks can supply. No other gift," added Patrick, "could possibly bring more joy to the recipient."

Persons seeking further information should contact the Lion Club chairman in their area: Granite City area—Jim Miller Jr., 877-4776; Madison area—Bill Gushleff, 877-5492; and the Pontoon Beach area—Jerry Morgan, 939-5062, or the Lions of Illinois Eye Donor Registry, located at 1515 North Harlem Ave., Oak

Express mail service aids deliveries to 14 countries

Madison-St. Clair counties mailers who need a reliable way to get important material overseas fast now can get overnight or second-day mail delivery to 14 foreign countries, East St. Louis Postmaster Jack LaZard reports.

International Express Mail is an extension of the U.S. Postal Service's domestic expedited Express Mail delivery service. It has been made possible through arrangements between the Postal Service and the postal administrations of Australia, Belgium, Bermuda, Brazil, Canada, France, Hong Kong, Japan, The Netherlands, Singapore, Switzerland, Taiwan, United Kingdom (England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland) and West Germany.

LaZard said two types of international service are offered in most of the countries — Customized Designed, service providing a delivery timetable that meets requirements of mailers on a fixed mailing schedule, and On Demand service, for those who don't have regular shipments.

Additional features are proof of delivery, which is kept at the overseas destination post offices; centralized payment for volume mailers; and return service through the foreign postal administrations. Express Mail began as an experimental overnight delivery service in 1970 between five cities and Washington, D.C., and is now available from most major metropolitan areas.

Area residents can get overnight delivery to more than 223 U.S. cities. Express Mail became an official class of mail in October 1977. For more information on Express Mail, Quad-Cityans may contact the Express Mail Service Manager, MPO, 950 Missouri Ave., East St. Louis 62201, or telephone 274-2200, Extension 322.

Stops theft attempt

Virginia Gerling, 1209 Kirkpatrick Homes, heard a noise at the rear of her apartment early this week and when she investigated, she saw a hand and arm sticking in her kitchen window and reaching for the lock on the door. She said she yelled, "What do you want," and the hand withdrew. The young man outside then knocked at the door and when she asked what he wanted, he asked if she had a cigarette. When she said she had none, the young man walked away. He had opened the window and arm unlocked kitchen window to reach in, the victim said.

Need new ideas for an effective, affordable bus system

Buses are so monstrously large and costly these days that the Bi-State Transit System is having trouble fine-tuning its routes, passenger demand and finances. Fuel prices and other inflationary factors have intensified deficits for a service that, under the best of circumstances, would have trouble making ends meet without substantial cash subsidies from the government (taxpayers).

With this in mind, there is hope that at the Nov. 9 Bi-State Development Agency board meeting transit officials will air some imaginative new approaches.

With buses costing in the hundreds of thousands of dollars, and sometimes being too big to fill on a given route at a particular time of the day, it has always appeared to us that more emphasis could be given to smaller buses or to vans.

Another issue that perplexes us in projections of cost patterns and subsidy needs is whether altered routes might make a big difference in ridership and fare income.

Obviously, considerable thought is given to routing specific bus lines across the bi-state map; and the public's response helps decide when to add to or delete bus service. But, ideally, there perhaps could be greater citizen input on where and when buses are desired and needed.

It's a complex situation, with big sums of money involved. The best possible thinking and planning will be required of area residents and their elected and appointed representatives.

In view of continued uncertainty over the cost and availability of passenger car fuel, it is essential that bus transit remain a viable alternative for not only the elderly and the poor, but also the non-aged and non-dedicated.

United drive calls for the best from all people, groups

Inflation, fortunately, isn't keeping Americans from giving to worthwhile causes. Last year, they contributed the unprecedented total of $39 billion to religious and charitable causes, 3.4 percent higher than the previous year.

Currently in progress, the Tri-Cities Area United Way fall 1979 campaign seeks an unprecedented total of $750,000. Fair share giving can put the drive over the top, UW leaders believe, but it won't happen automatically. All people will need to dig down deep and give especially generously.

Giving "until it hurts, and then until it feels good" is justified by the work of youth, family, health, character building, assistance, rehabilitation, scouting, disaster, furniture-clothing exchange and counseling agencies.

George J. Knecht, a staff representative of the United Steelworkers of America, AFL-CIO, is general chairman of the Tri-Cities Area United Way campaign. The UW president is Paul J. Costello, a Granite City Steel executive. Allocations chairman is Paul F. Sodko of the Madison County Federal Savings and Loan Association.

As Knecht comments, "There is no alternative to the United Way if we are to keep our entire area the best we can make it, as a good place to live and work. All share a common concern for the well-being of others. The outlook for each individual, family and business is affected by the availability of UW help for those who can benefit from it. Giving the United Way helps assure a prosperous, healthy, happy, vital community."

Mrs. Rife dies at 71

Mrs. Marguerite (Mitchell) Rife, 71, of 23a Wanda Drive, died about 9 a.m. today at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

She is survived by her husband, Francis "Buzz" Rife; two sisters, Mrs. Eva Smith of Mansfield, Ohio, and Mrs. Vera Fyatt of St.

Petersburg, Fla.; a sister-in-law, Mrs. George (Irene) Ramach; and a brother-in-law, William J. Rife, both of Granite City; and nephews, nieces and cousins. Funeral arrangements are pending. Available details are given in the obituary column.

RESTAURANT LOOTED

About $175 in cash was stolen from the Barrel Restaurant, 1226 Nineteenth St., during a burglary between 5:30 p.m. Monday and 9 a.m. Tuesday. Entry was gained by forcing a door, damaging the floor where a brace to the door was attached. Cash was taken from the bar and dining room registers.

Vandals throw paint; break windows here

Eight incidents of malicious vandalism, primarily in the downtown Granite City area, are being investigated by Granite City police.

In four of the incidents early this week, paint in baby food bottles was thrown on billboards and signs, causing hundreds of dollars worth of damage to each.

At First National City Savings & Loan, 1825 Delmar Ave., a billboard in the parking lot was damaged with blue and pink paint thrown on it. Several baby food jars of paint were found nearby.

Two billboards at 17th and State streets had maroon paint thrown on them and blue and orange spray paint sprayed on the stands. Baby food jars were found on the ground.

At 1940 State Street, a billboard on the First Granite City National Bank had paint thrown on it and on the building's wall.

Paint also was thrown on two billboards at 23rd Street and Monroe Avenue. All of the billboards were owned by Vollman Advertising Co., Collinsville.

Other incidents of vandalism were reported downtown Monday night as a window in the front door of United Auto Workers Local 1715 was broken with a large piece of concrete thrown through it.

A bottle was thrown through the door of a vacant store at 1229 Nineteenth St., owned by Abrams Realty Co.

Two vandalism incidents also were reported on Nameki Road early this week. A bottle was thrown through a plate glass window worth $350 at Butler Floor Co., 20 Nameki Village Shopping Center, and another bottle broke a rear window at Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., 3703 Nameki Road.

'Peaking' Warriors intimidate Collinsville

Press-Record

GRANITE CITY (III.) PRESS-RECORD, Thursday, Nov. 1, 1979—23

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — The mood among the Collinsville high school soccer fans here Tuesday was that the Kahoks would defeat Granite City South in the first round of the GC North Sectional. After all, they had just beaten Granite City North in sudden death penalty kicks the Saturday before.

Collinsville was there in force, with the school's entire pep band, cheerleaders and even good of Chief Kahok himself. An overflow crowd estimated at nearly 2,500 jammed the stands.

But somebody forgot to tell South all this. Even the Kahoks dancer couldn't dance up so much as a whimper out of the Collinsville team. Riding the crest of four second period goals, the defending state champs whipped the Kahoks 5-0.

The victory gives South a leg-up on a return trip to the state finals next week at Palatine High School in Chicago. South will face Quincy Thursday and Alton Saturday, while Collinsville faces the same two teams in reverse order in the round-robin sectional. The team with the best record in the tournament will advance. Barring an upset of South by either of its remaining foes, the Warriors will get a chance to defend the state championship they have won the last three years.

It wasn't the outcome, but the margin of victory that surprised South coach Gene Baker. "The score has got to surprise you," he said. "We came to the ball well. I think our second goal really got them (Collinsville) down."

That second goal was a carbon copy of the first. On the first, south's Craig Kessler headed a free kick by David Fernandez into the upper left corner of the net. On the second, David Paz headed in Jack Burnett's kick.

In a game between two evenly-matched teams like South and Collinsville, even one goal could be enough to decide the outcome. Two might have put it out of reach.

Baker seemed worried about his team becoming complacent after the two-goal outburst. "Don't let up," he yelled, pacing the sidelines.

They didn't. Fernandez scored his team's third goal of the game out of a melle in front of Collinsville goalie Bob Beloraydic. The tall, angular Kahok keeper appeared to be screened on the shot, as it rolled along the ground and into the lower left hand corner of the goal.

Less than 15 seconds later, South was on the scoreboard again, thanks mainly to a hot-tempered Beloraydic.

After making a save on a Warrior shot, Beloraydic held onto the ball. As South's Jeff Tinsley raced up on the goalie, he was greeted by a blatant kick in the thigh. Jack Burnett beat Beloraydic on the ensuing penalty kick to make it 4-0 at halftime.

That South dominated the action is borne out in the fact that at halftime, South had outshot the Kahoks 8-0. The result of the overpowering South lead was a clinic in hacking by Collinsville and retaliation by the Warriors.

At the 10:39 mark of the third period, referee Harold Hager called in each team one at a time and warned them that ejections would follow if the cheap shots didn't stop. They didn't.

With 8:47 remaining in the game, Collinsville's Matt Prsha tripped Fernandez from behind in the area to the right of Beloraydic on a breakaway. Burnett made good in his second penalty kick of the game.

The physical game included four yellow cards — one to South's Randy DeRousse and three to Collinsville, including one to head coach Jim Stranz who dashed out onto the field and complained that the referees had not let his team get ready when South scored its first goal off the free kick.

"I think a lot of the cheap shots came out of frustration and embarrassment," said Baker. "Collinsville's an excellent team and we know they have more than they showed today."

Collinsville's Stranz was less flattering to South. "They (South) are an intimidating force," he said. "They intimidated us and they intimidated the refs."

Baker said he felt the adversity his club underwent earlier in the season because of injuries to Fernandez, David James and Phil Beljanski actually helped the team become more balanced. "The injuries forced players who didn't have as much playing yime, such as David Paz, to come forward and play better out of necessity."

"As good as David (Fernandez) is, he wasn't the dominating force in the game. It was a team victory. We're peaking at the right time of the season."

Quincy trims Alton

Brown makes wrong choice

GRANITE CITY — Alton High soccer coach Mick Brown thought carefully before deciding which quarters he wanted the wind to be blowing in his favor here Tuesday in his team's Granite North Sectional game against Quincy. As it turned out, he made the wrong decision.

Brown decided he wanted the wind in the second and fourth quarters. So what happened? Quincy scored three goals in the first 16 minutes of the first quarter and held on for a 3-2 victory in the first round of the round-robin tournament.

The win for Quincy gives it a 16-6 overall record going into Thursday's second round of the meet and a rematch with defending state champion Granite South (20-5-1), 5-0 winner over Collinsville in Tuesday's other game (see related story). Alton falls to 13-8 and will meet Collinsville (18-5-3) in Thursday's other game.

Quincy got goals from Erik Fleming, Steve Easley and Jim Howerton to take the early lead with the wind at its backs. But Alton wasn't about to roll over and play dead.

In the second quarter, Alton's Darrin Jones scored at the 28:31 mark to narrow the lead. The Blue Devils' lead at halftime. In the third period, Jones got the only goal of the day that was scored against the wind at the 48:00 mark. Jones' two goals give him 20 for the season. The Alton team record is 21 by Steve Winkler in 1977.

Brown said his decision to go with the wind in the second and fourth periods was a bad one. "I just made a tactical error and I accept the blame," he said.

Alton was able to keep Quincy star Orville Rudd out of the scorebook, even though it didn't do anything in particular to stop him. The tall Rudd has been a thorn in the side of many teams this season.

Thursday's games are both rematches, south defeated Quincy 5-0 earlier this season. Collinsville has beaten Alton once this season. The tournament will end Saturday with Collinsville facing Quincy at 12 p.m. and South playing Alton at 2 p.m. The winner of the meet will advance to next week's state finals.

Inside the trophy of course, is a South Warrior.

Girls' volleyball

Steelerettes fall to South; Schulze praises team work

By DOUG IRVIN
for the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Last night, people saw ghosts and goblins on the city streets; but in a high school gym, spectators saw six Warriors and six Steelerettes. The high school was Granite City North and the twelve athletes played girls' volleyball. Winning in two games 20-13 and 20-4, were the Warriors of South.

The Warriors are now 10-7. The first game was the closest, but both games went to South in the best of three games that are played. North's leads were at the beginning of the first game,

1-0, and midway through the first.

The Warriors were leading in the first game 6-1 when North mounted a nine point streak, which put them on top 10-6. Later, South, with help from nine good serves by Susan Jeffries, tallied nine straight to go take the lead and control of the game. South added another and won the first battle, 20-13.

South's momentum carried past the three minute break between games and put them on top in the beginning of the second contest. The Warriors were leading 2-1 before they gathered seven straight.

With several good spikes by Chris Boyd and Jeffries, South won the second allowing only four points to their hosts, Granite North. Jeffries served the last five in a row to give South the victory.

"Karen Macious and Boyd did a good job of hitting for us (South) tonight," said Wilma Schulze, South's coach. She added "Karen Jeffries and really did hit the ball up for us and played well as the setter. Susan (Jeffries) helped with her usual super serves."

"They had tight officials tonight," said Schulze. "It's not as exciting because the girls can't hit when they're called tight. I like to be entertained when I sit on the bench," concluded the coach.

In volleyball action tonight, Madison will visit North (junior varsity at 6:30 p.m., varsity at approximately 8:30).

This weekend, Madison will be participating in the Triad Tournament. Next Monday, the Trojanettes will travel to East St. Louis to do battle with the Tigerettes of Lincoln High.

Tuesday, Roxana will visit Granite North and Granite City South will travel to Red Bud.

Flyers, Highland on top

GRANITE CITY — The East St. Louis Flyers in the Large School Poll, and the Highland Bulldogs in the Small School are the top two teams this week in the Press-Record's poll of area football coaches.

Granite City South has moved ahead of North in the Large School Poll, while Highland managed to hold off a surge by powerful class 2A school East St. Louis Assumption in the Small School Poll.

East St. Louis has held the top spot all season, while Highland, Mascoutah and Roxana have each had a share of first in their poll.

24—Thursday, Nov. 1, 1979, GRANITE CITY (III), PRESS-RECORD

They 'own' the tournament

GRANITE CITY — There have been many teams through the years - both amateur and professional - which have made their names because of the way they came through in the clutch. Many times, a particular period was the launching pad for these teams game after game.

The Green Bay Packers in their heyday were a team that got out of the gate quickly in the first quarter. The UCLA basketball teams of John Wooden had the same reputation. As recently as this season, the Eastern Illinois University football team (last season's national champion) has made its mark in the fourth quarter. When the gun sounds ending the third period, Eastern fans rise and cheer, whether or not their team is ahead or behind. For they own the fourth quarter.

The same could be true of Granite City South's soccer team. No matter how things go during the regular season for South, it seems to always rise during the post-season playoffs. They did here Tuesday in smacking powerful Collinsville 5-0 in the first round of the Granite North Sectional.

The Warriors have won the last three state championships, prompting Illinois State High School Association officials to jokingly refer to the state finals as the "South Invitational."

The season began roughly for South. With many regulars gone from last season's squad, Gene Baker's Warriors seemed doomed to relinquish the state crown. Especially when injuries to three key starters forced inexperienced players into the lineup.

However, just like the days when names like Goldschmidt, Feigl, Theis, Schuler, and Sheridan dotted the lineup, things looked familiar Tuesday. South dominated - intimidated.

Today, the names are DeRousse, Tinsley, Fernandez, Kessler and James. But the outcome is the same. They own the tournament.

GC kickers are fortunate

By PETE HAYES

Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY —
When I first arrived in this community, I was told I'd better become a soccer fan because I was going to be seeing an awful lot of the sport. I have. But as long as I live, there are things I don't think I'll ever understand about the sport.
Especially the high school version.

The soccer fans of Granite City are blessed with two of the finest soccer coaches in the country in North's Bob Kehoe and South's Gene Baker. I don't think people here realize just how fortunate they are to have these two guys
coaching their children.

Kehoe's season was concerned. But he didn't blame anyone. He was
courteous to reporters,
even though it was difficult at times for him to
talk when the subject of
his "boys" came up.
As a matter of fact, it wasn't until after he excused himself and spoke to his team that he

The Sporting Thing

passed by only one thing—
his desire to help produce decent young men. He is a strong disciplinarian. But that's his style. And you can't argue with a record
like his at North's.

After his team was beaten in overtime by Collinsville last week,
Kehoe's season was over
as far as a trip to the state finals was concerned. But he didn't blame anyone.
He didn't harp about any officials' calls. He was
courteous to reporters,
even though it was difficult at times for him to
talk when the subject of
his "boys" came up.

finally let himself down a bit.

Kehoe doesn't try to
"use" the press,
something I'm grateful
for. He is always courteous and loves to explain soccer strategy. In fact, if he got a chance,
he's probably stay up all night talking soccer.

Baker is a gentleman in the truest sense of the word. While his coaching strategies may differ from Kehoe's, his mannerisms off the field
do not.

He has earned the respect and friendship of every player he has ever coached. And he's coached some good ones through the years. He doesn't exert

dominating pressures on his kids to win. But they just about always seem to come through—they know what they have to do and they do it.

After North's game
with Collinsville last week, Kahokas coach Jim Stranz said something about "Justice being served." What did he mean by that? After his team lost to South
Tuesday, he said that
"South intimidates the refs," referring to the fact that four of South's goals came as a result of either a free kick or penalty kick. But the way
I understand it, a team
only needs one goal to win
if the other team doesn't score.

What did the Granite City coaches say about Collinsville? Kehoe said that the Kahokas are a very good team. Baker said the Kahokas are a very good team.

You don't know how lucky you are, Granite.

GRANITE CITY — Even though tomorrow night's game between Granite City North and Edwardsville's prep football teams may seem anti-climatic on the surface, there is still much at stake for the Stealers as they close out their 1979 season.

The game is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at Memorial Stadium at the campus of Granite City. In other Quad City action, Madison will be at Freeburg Saturday at 2 p.m.

The north-Edwardsville game will mean the difference between a winning season and a losing one for Tom Wyrwack's Stealers.
That's a pretty long haul
from last season's 0-10 record. For a team that was winless a season ago to be in the running for a state playoff berth late in the season (like North) was a lot for both coaching staff and players.

North will bring in a 4-4
overall record and 4-2 mark in the Gateway East Conference. Edwardsville stands at 4-4 and 2-2. Because there are only five teams in the GEC, some teams will end up playing more conference games than others.

North is coming off a 21-7 loss last week to cross-town school Granite City South, a team they had beaten 21-14

earlier in the season.
Edwardsville last week shut out Poplar Bluff, Mo. 7-0 in a non-conference game.

Friday's game will be the last appearance for 18
seniors on the Stealers squad. They are: Nadevns
Pierson, Tim Dudley, Bryan

Garrett, Daveid Pinkston,
Pat Jateff, Mike Steen, Pat
Marmion, Ron Pinkston,
Bryan McCullough, Brian
Lucas, Jordan Falloni, Scot
Humphreys, David Hollis,
Brian Patterson, Keith
Burton, Alan Fisher,
William Harvey and Gary Loftin.

Pension forms to be returned

Veterans and widows receiving military pension checks in today's mail will find their annual income questionnaire in the envelope with the check. The questionnaire must be filled out and returned if pension checks are to continue. A Freeman Clinard, veterans' service officer for the Illinois Department of Veterans Affairs, will be in Granite City Tuesday, Nov. 6, and each subsequent Tuesday to aid those who request help in completing the questionnaires. Clinard will be in the Disabled American Veterans Building at 1417 Nineteenth St., each Tuesday from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., except for the Christmas and New Year's holiday periods.

The questionnaires must be completed and received in the Chicago office by Dec. 31 in order to qualify for continued pensions. Clinard stressed. He may be reached by telephone at 876-2800 on Tuesdays and other weekdays. Questions may be directed to his Alton office by calling 1-465-3216.

Traffic injuries drop during 1979

Injuries resulting from traffic accidents in the Quad-City area fell 12 percent below those of the same period of 1978, while the number of injury-type accidents fell only 7 percent below the ten-month period of 1978, according to statistics compiled by the Press-Record.

During the period Jan. 1 through Oct. 31 this year, there was a total of 479 accidents in which injuries occurred in the area, compared with total of 516 such accidents during the ten months of the previous year.

Eleven persons died in the accidents, a decline of 39 percent below the 18 traffic fatalities occurring during the same period in 1978.

The accidents involved in the statistics include only those in which persons were injured or killed, and do not include accidents that only involve property damage.

Records show that a total of 665 persons were hurt in the 479 injury accidents occurring in the January-October period this year, while 747 persons were injured in the 516 accidents during that period last year.

Last month's statistics showed a total of 38 injury accidents in this area, with 65 persons hurt in those accidents. There were no fatalities in the area last month.

Last month's statistics compare with 48 injury accidents, 91 persons injured and four fatalities in October 1978.

The largest number of persons injured in any single month so far this year was 85 injured during May in only 47 accidents, while the smallest number of traffic injuries occurred in February when 41 persons were hurt in 33 accidents. One person died of traffic injuries that month. Traffic statistics during the ten months of this year, including the number of injury accidents, the number of persons injured and the number of fatalities, in that order, were:

January 37-52-4; February 74-0; September '52-74-1; 33-41-1; March 33-47-1; April October 38-55-0.

51-72-0; May 58-85-1; June 71-77-2; July 47-81-1; August 59-33-41-1; March 33-47-1; April October 38-55-0.

Free privileges at BAC library

Belleville Area College Director of Instructional Resources Lloyd Gentry has reminded all Community College District 522 residents that they may have free library privileges at the college.

Anyone above the age of 16 is eligible for a BAC library card if he or she lives in the district. Gentry pointed out. The area includes the Quad-Cities.

In addition to books, records and tapes that may be checked out, the college has a large reference section and is a member of the Ohio College Library center, a consortium that allows its members to obtain materials from most of the college and university libraries in the Midwest.

Residents of the district who are not students at Belleville Area College may request library cards at the circulation desk in the library, located on the third floor at the main campus, 2300 Carlyle Road.

Preparations for second semester at area college

Residents of Community College District 522 (Belleville Area College) will receive the schedule of courses for the spring semester and the president's annual report in the second week of November.

Telephone registration will begin for spring classes on Nov. 26 and continue through Dec. 7.

In-person registration will continue at the main campus through late registration, Jan. 14-18.

The annual report of the president to citizens of the district is being mass-mailed to all homes as an addendum to the schedule for the second time this year.

Prior to 1978, only a limited number of copies of the report were printed. Utilization of the schedule format allows the report to be sent to each home in the district at no additional cost.

Dr. William R. Keel, president of the college, said, "We are making an effort to keep every taxpayer in our district as much informed about the college as possible."

"We have been pleased with the response of the community to the mailing of our schedules, and we feel that the addition of the annual report to the schedule gives us a perfect way to let everyone know what we are doing and how well we are meeting our goals."

SIUE advisory group to coordinate policies, develop new programs

In an effort to better serve the educational needs of the adult learner in Southwestern Illinois, the Office of Continuing Education at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has established an advisory council on continuing education and also named school coordinators from each of the academic-service units offering instructional services, according to Donald Shandler, director.

Chaired by the director of continuing education, the advisory council consists of 17 faculty-staff members who will be responsible for developing and recommending policies for programs and courses for non-traditional student enrollment.

Members of the council will review current offerings at the University and make recommendations for deletions, additions, and improvements to ensure academic quality and integrity.

The council also will be responsible for making the appropriate unit to offer the classes, Shandler said.

In addition to the advisory council, school coordinators are being named to assist in integrating the continuing education efforts within the University units, they represent, identifying potential programs and classes for older students and providing a liaison role between their units and the Office of Continuing Education.

The coordinators will work also with outside agencies, industries, and organizations in coordinating educational opportunities for members of the surrounding communities, Shandler said.

Members of the advisory council and the University instructional and service units they represent are: Curtis Cook, School of Business; Donald Baden, School of Education; Diane Engelmann, School of Fine Arts and Communications; William Hamrick, School of Humanities; Betty Boyd Walker, School of Nursing; James O. Bryant Jr., School of Science and Technology; Wayne Smith, School of Social Sciences; Richard Coy, School of Dental Medicine; Rosemary Archangel, Graduate School; Miriam C. Dusenberry, University College; Robert Mendelson, representing units soon to become part of the Institute of Urban and Regional Studies; Henry Campbell, Rowena Lutz, alternate, East St. Louis Center; Eugene J. Magac, Office of Admissions and Records; David C. Huntley, Cultural Arts and University Museums; Richard Madison, Office of the Vice President for Business Affairs; and Glenda Swarth, Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs.

Robert Koepke, coordinator for area development, will serve as an ex-officio member of the council.

School coordinators who have been named and the University units they represent include:

School of Business: James Miller.

School of Education: Donald Baden.

School of Fine Arts and Communications: Margaret Iolite, department of art and design; John Regnell, department of mass communications; Johnetta

Haley, department of music; Robert Hawkins and Patricia Goeh, department of speech communications; William Grivna, department of theater and dance; School of Humanities:

Ventriloquist at GC church

Von R. Saum, an evangelist and ventriloquist, will present three programs this weekend at Calvary Pentecostal Assembly church, 4650 Maryville road.

The public is invited to attend the presentations at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday and 9:45 a.m. Sunday, the Rev. Harold Laynard, pastor, said.

Saum attended Southern Bible College in Houston, Tex., after suffering amputation of the left arm and left leg following a motorcycle accident.

Now known as "Captain Look," the evangelist has a gospel television show for children which is seen in 300 major cities and overseas.

Saum uses ventriloquism and illustrated plays with audience participation in his personal appearances.

Ann Rutledge Rebekahs honor 5 charter members

Ann Rutledge Rebekah Lodge 47 held its regular meeting last week, preceded by a pot luck dinner served on tables decorated with fall flowers and pumpkins furnished by several members.

Guests from Juanita 477 and Delray 876 were in attendance.

The meeting was called to order by Noble Grand Emma Schoen, who announced it was a special evening for the lodge because the members were celebrating its 35th anniversary and honoring the five living charter members.

Four were present—Clara Harbig, who was the first noble grand, and Vera Schillinger, Marvel Glover and Louis Wille.

Myrtle Fisher, who helped her father and mother, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson, organize the lodge, lives in Texas and was unable to attend.

The charter members were escorted by Jennie Barney to the altar and were introduced and seated.

Emma Schoen presented the ladies with purple orchids and Wille with a red rose boutonniere, after which the musician, Agnes Meng, played "How Great Thou Art" in their honor.

Each one gave a short talk on the experiences of the first year.

Three were presented pins by Joyce Bailey—Dorothy Edwards and Marvel Glover, 35-year pins, and Emma Schoen, a 25-year pin. Agnes Meng played "It Is No Secret" in their honor.

Ann Rutledge Lodge praised Thelma Jahnsen, who transferred here in 1965. She has been an active member and celebrated her 55th year as a Rebekah this year, having received her 50-year pin in 1974.

Also honored was Phil Morrison, 94, who still attends the meetings, holds and office and repeats his charge from memory.

Arrest 3 in disturbance

Gerald Wayne Clark, 22, of 3506 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Brian K. Hogue, 22, of 4210 Kirkpatrick, were charged with criminal damage to property and battery and John E. Overturf, 21, of 2127 Edison Ave., was booked on a state charge of disorderly conduct after a disturbance on the lot of the Corner Liquor Store on Namecki Road, across from Kirkpatrick Homes, at 11 p.m. Thursday.

Police were called to a report of a disturbance and alleged the three young men were walking away when the squad car arrived. They were returned to the lot where Jeff Waggoner, 2297 Edison Ave., alleged he had been struck in the eye by Clark.

Waggoner said that after he was struck, he ran inside the store and Clark and Hayes entered his car and beat 13-year-old Gene Jackson, 13, of 2408 Kirkpatrick Homes.

Waggoner's car then was beaten on, caving in the roof and the passenger door, it was related. Waggoner was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center, where he was admitted with an eye injury.

Dual-Compound Tread Improves Traction and Mileage.

A specially formulated, cool-running undercoat reduces damaging heat buildup. The tougher, harder, tread surface provides extended tread life and superior traction in both wet and dry conditions, as compared to the BFG XLM.

Wide, Deep "See-Through" Grooves

with big connecting transverse grooves help improve driving and cornering in the wet, when compared to tires without this type of tread pattern.

Now, video discs are about to enter market

Just as home video tape machines were becoming comfortable to have around the house, a new gadget is about to intrude upon the TV watching public: the video disc system.

It looks like a sleek record turntable and operates on much the same principle. The video disc is about the size of an LP, made of a sturdy vinyl-like material and coated with plastic to resist scratches. Place is on the player and lower the lid. As the disc picks up speed to 1800 rpm, it creates an air lock inside the player.

At this point, the school of video discs divides.

Magnavision's system is based on a laser: a tiny beam of light picks up the optical and sound signals of the disc and transmits them via a cable attached to a TV set's antenna terminals; it's also possible to hook on a stereo system in order to enhance the sound. The laser means that the disc never wears out, never gets scratchy and never skips, since nothing touches the surface. Unlike a record album, the video disc begins playing in the middle of the disc and the laser moves slowly to the outside.

RCA, which has millions invested in stereo technology and its record company, is currently testing a system using the more traditional stylus to play the disc. Magnavox (read: Magnavox) and RCA are racing to perfect their machines and be the first to introduce them to the consumer.

Why do we need such a machine, what with Sony's Betamax, etc.?

For one thing, video disc features will cost less than video cassettes, with half-hour programs beginning at about $5. Full-length movies will probably retail for about $25. Unlike the cassette, however, it won't be possible to buy a blank disc and record at home.

Magnavision is anxious to promote the educational advantages of its system, still being test marketed only in Atlanta and Seattle. "Our children have been raised on television, and the medium has had such an impact that many kids today almost demand an audio-visual component before they will learn," said a company spokesman. "Our special features, such as freeze frame and frame-by-frame indexing, make it an ideal educational tool to be used in conjunction with written materials." So far there are cooking lessons, sports training and needlecraft, as well as current and classic movies.

It can also be used to teach a foreign language, since it's equipped with multiple audio channels: Watch the same film in, say, English, then French, or Japanese and Spanish.

Ultimately what this kind of machine does is provide the viewer with control over the type and scheduling of the TV he or she watches. Rather than being a passive participant of the television-TV partnership, one becomes the dictator. It's a role that will take some getting used to, since most of us have been long conditioned to accept the network-as-boss syndrome.

Hollywood's devout run on religion

By RUTH THOMPSON

Hollywood probably never deserved its earlier reputation as sin city or tinsel city.

Oh, it's had its share of villains, victims and phonies. But along, and never more so than now, a devout core of citizens run their lives from religious bases. As in less publicized communities, the nature and degree of commitment varies from low-profile private worship to actual missionary work.

Pat and Shirley Boone, who since their teens spoke out for the Fundamentalist faith in which they were raised, in recent years examined their early teachings and sought fresh insights which eventually led them to become congregants of the flourishing new Church of the Way, where Born Again Christianity is preached.

Among their fellow members are frequent Disney star Dean Jones and his wife who are credited by actor Cesar Romero as being the catalyst for his religious conversion three years ago.

Carol Channing is a long-time Christian Scientist. So are Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers, with Ginger — a woman of optimism and strength — the most outspoken of the three.

She says days go right when they start right. And she starts hers with scriptural and related spiritual readings. "God gives," she said simply when asked about her three successful careers on the screen, stage and in fashion.

Three who phased out their former careers to take on organizational responsibilities with the Christian Science church and projects are singer Kenny Baker, once of the Jack Benny program, band leader Kay Kyser and Alan Young, who co-starred with Connie Hines and a talking horse on the "Mister Ed" series.

In her third year as Betsy Garth in the old "Virginian" series, Roberta Shore said she thought she would end her acting career while she was still an ingenue. Yes, she enjoyed it, but she didn't see it as a lifetime thing.

And quit she did. Marriage was in her plans, she said. So was doing missionary work for the Mormon Church.

Currently, Johnnie Whitaker is reported heading a similar "call," and is said to have pledged the next two years to "missionary" duties for the Mormon Church in Europe.

His first work was as a child actor in "Family Affair," the series that cast him as the twin to the late Anissa Jones. Later he received good reviews in "Tom Sawyer." It is giving up acting for good, Time will tell.

Ann B. Davis, who moved to Denver to become a lay member of an Episcopal Community, drew on her longtime show business experience ("The Brady Bunch" is her best-remembered series) to produce "An Evening of Music and Dance" for the visiting Episcopalians who recently gathered in Denver for a convention.

The beautiful Dolores Hart gave up communication with the outside world, except for occasional visits from a few friends, when she gave up Hollywood to become a nun. Among those privileged to see her occasionally are her contemporaries, Ina Bay and Gary Cooper's daughter, Maria Jans. They report that the former Miss Hart is radiant in her choice and has progressed to being Mother Superior.

New council will spur economic development

The Southwestern Illinois Planning Commission has received notice from the U.S. Department of Commerce's Economic Development Administration that the commission's request for a grant for development planning and technical assistance has been approved.

The $50,000 grant will be matched with $20,000 in local and state funds and will form the financial base for expanded economic development efforts in the Southwestern Illinois region, President Paul Schuler and Executive Director Theodore H. Mikesell said.

The "Economic Development District" program, authorized by the Public Works and Economic Development program of 1965, currently provides funds for economic development programs of more than 200 multi-county organizations throughout the U.S., each of which contains areas designated by the EDA as "economically distressed" based on income and unemployment considerations.

The grant, sought since 1972, will enable the commission to address issues and needs which its members have identified as critical to local public and private sector interests alike.

Activities of the commission staff will be formulated and monitored by a new advisory body — the Southwestern Illinois Council on Economic Development.

This new program will provide a variety of benefits to local governments, businesses and residents of the region. Included in the work schedule for the coming year are the following activities:

1. Preparation of a regional Overall Economic Development Program (OEDP); The OEDP, a prerequisite to EDA loan and grant programs, will consist of a comprehensive data and information base for use by local governments, developers and others in investment and facility location decision making; an established set of development goals and objectives; analyses of past and projected area economic trends; identification of development potentials and constraints; and an implementation strategy aimed at expanding employment opportunities and improving the region's economic environment.

2. Provision of technical assistance to public and private bodies in their efforts to access public works grants and business development loans to fulfill demands for investment capital.

3. Provision of assistance to local governments and development organizations in industrial and commercial site identification, design, financing and marketing.

4. Provision of assistance to business and industry on subjects including financing, marketing and site location.
5. Conducting specific studies and plans on community facilities and services, local economic impacts, energy resource development, and other subjects of regional importance to future development efforts.

Once the regional OEDP has been adopted locally and approved by EDA, a number of financing tools available through EDA can be obtained by local governments and businesses of Southwestern Illinois.

A summary of these programs will be prepared in the coming weeks as soon as EDA's new authorizing legislation is finalized by Congress.

The first step in implementation of the District program will be the appointment of the Council on Economic Development, which will consist of individuals representative of all economic and geographical interests of the region.

Once the Council has been formed and the program for the year finalized, the commission staff will begin an intensive information-gathering effort.

Through both written surveys and informal meetings, it will attempt to gather all pertinent information on facility needs of area communities and employers as well as data on existing conditions and current development efforts.

The information base which results will provide the basis for the regional Overall Economic Development Program.

"As 1980's Economic Development District program gets under way and as progress is made, we will contact many for input, reactions and questions. In the meantime, the public may contact any commission staff member for additional information or assistance," Pres. Schuler said.

"Also, we will be announcing information on other commission economic development activities in the coming weeks and invite comments on these programs as well."

Divisional autonomy emphasized by National Steel for 50 years

(The Mill) National Steel Corporation this month celebrates its 50th anniversary. Even so, it is the youngest of the major, integrated carbon steel producers in the United States.

Since its incorporation in the closing weeks of 1929 — right after the disastrous stock market crash — it has grown to be the third largest in production and shipments, with annual sales exceeding $3 billion.

National Steel was founded by three successful businessmen who foresaw, correctly, that a pooling of their interests likely would provide a whole that would be greater than the sum of its parts.

George M. Humphrey, of Cleveland, then president of the M. A. Hanna Company, Ernest T. Weir, of Pittsburgh, then president of Weirton Steel Company, and George R. Fink, of Detroit, then president of Great Lakes Steel Corporation, were the incorporators, in November 1929.

In the first five years of their new company's life, the American steel industry, operated at an average of 38 percent of capacity.

But even though it was building a new steel mill while so many others stood idle, the new company earned a profit and paid a dividend in every quarter of the Depression years and every year since — the only major steel producer to do so.

To the new venture, the M. S. Hanna Company contributed iron ore mines and properties, lake vessels and two blast furnace plants, producing merchant pig iron at Buffalo and Detroit.

The former is the Hanna Furnace Division today. The latter became the blast furnace plant for the Great Lakes Steel plant at Escore, on which construction had just begun when National Steel was organized.

From Weir came Weirton Steel, already the world's largest independent tin plate producer and a company thoroughly established in a product which offered one of the more "depression-proof" markets of all those served by the steel industry.

Fink came from Michigan Steel Company, a small operation which produced steel sheets for the automotive industry, and Great Lakes Steel, which had been planned as the raw steel supplier for Michigan.

Aside from the physical assets which complemented each other so effectively, the founders also contributed a way of doing business which helped establish the character of National Steel.

One-half century later, it remains characteristic of National Steel — and helps make it unique among the major integrated steel producers of the United States — that its divisions have almost total operational autonomy, and that its headquarters staff in Pittsburgh is small and specialized.

During 1959-61, National Steel constructed an entirely new steel plant in Indiana, near Chicago, on property it had held since 1929.

It's the Midwest Steel Division, which finishes hot-rolled and cold-rolled sheets, electrolytic tinplate, tin-free can steel and galvanized steel.

Granite City Steel was acquired in 1971 and became a division of National Steel. A major strength of National Steel is its extensive reserves of coal and ore which are substantially in excess of its steelmaking needs at its present size, or any foreseeable expanded size, a significant advantage in times of rapidly changing events overseas.

Another characteristic of National Steel is its product mix.

This concentrates quite heavily on light, float-rolled and coated steel sheets and strip, light plate and fabricated products made from sheet and strip.

National Steel is continually expanding its captive metals distribution and fabricating divisions to provide a dependable "in-house" outlet for its mills' sheet and strip products.

It expanded into aluminum in 1968, to better serve its traditional customers and to share in the growth of this versatile material.

Also characteristic of National Steel has been its willingness to invest heavily in new technology. For example:

1927 — Weirton Steel brought in the world's first fully continuous wide hot strip mill.

1962 — National brought in what then was the world's largest, fastest and fully computerized wide hot strip mill, at Detroit, along with the world's largest basic oxygen furnaces.

1968 — It brought in at Weirton the world's first high-volume commercial, continuous slab casting machine.

1974 — The world's most modern, fully continuous, computerized cold reduction mill began operation at the Weirton Steel Division.

1977 — Another world-first was set when the Great Lakes Steel division began operation of its new continuous slab caster, designed to cast slabs 104 inches wide.

Interpersed among these steelmaking landmarks have been many other accomplishments which evidence technological pioneering.

Traditionally, National Steel has been among the first to apply the fundamental new technology of its industry.

Car chased, driver arrested

John D. Wallace, 21, of 1737 Edison Ave., was charged with driving while under the influence of liquor, illegal transportation of alcohol, fleeing from police, resisting arrest and illegal possession of marijuana after his auto allegedly was involved in a police chase at 2:20 a.m. Monday.

Madison Patrolman Charles Bridick reported he saw a car strike two trees and nearly hit a utility pole on Granite City Steel property in the 1600 block of Madison Avenue and then drive north at a high rate of speed.

Using red lights and a siren on his squad car, Bridick chased the car north, notifying Granite City police by radio of the chase, it was reported.

Granite City Police Sgt. William Harris positioned his squad car blocking one of the northbound lanes of Madison Avenue at 19th Street, but reported the vehicle being chased got around the parked car on the east side while Bridick passed the squad car on the west side and was able to get in front of the fleeing auto and stop it, officers alleged.

The driver was asked to get out of the car and complied, but then ran on foot west on 19th Street. He was captured nearby by two officers.

During booking, police alleged finding a plastic bag of marijuana in Wallace's right sock.

WHY THE UNITED WAY IS MORE IMPORTANT AFTER PROPOSITION 13 THAN EVER BEFORE.

There's a new attitude in America, typified by Proposition 13.

Americans aren't opposed to helping each other, but they are opposed to bearing the ever rising costs of government. And many of them have decided to put a lid on taxes.

That means that in many places across the country, the government may be doing less than it has been up until now.

Less for people in need of help. Less for everyone.

And that means the United Way is going to have to stretch itself further and more efficiently than ever before, or a lot of people who desperately need assistance of one kind or another are simply not going to get it.

Will the United Way be there to give that assistance when it's needed?

That's up to you. Now, more than ever before, the United Way needs your help.

Thanks to you, it works. For all of us. United Way

Man charged after fight

David Catterson, 29, of 709 rear Madison Ave., Madison, was treated at 11 p.m. Friday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for a cut to the scalp, was x-rayed and released.

He is being held in the Granite City jail, pending a court appearance on charges of resisting arrest and disorderly conduct.

Catterson was allegedly causing a disturbance at Tri-Mor Bowl at 9:30 p.m. Friday and refused to stop when asked to by the manager.

He allegedly was asked to leave by a Granite City police officer, who said Catterson then remarked, "Let's go into the bar where we can fight."

A police spokesman said force had to be used to remove him and place him under arrest.

Reilly resigning

Madison County Public Defender Paul Reilly has told the Press-Record he will resign his post effective Nov. 30 due to "time demands."

He said his private practice is growing and there has been insufficient time for both offices.

A successor to Reilly is to be selected by the circuit judges of the Third Judicial Circuit.

Pack 22 leaders introduced

Cub Scout Pack 22, sponsored by Frohardt School PTA, held its annual Halloween costume contest at its pack meeting Thursday night. The meeting was opened by Cubmaster Jim Colp with the pledge of allegiance and the introduction of the leaders for the new pack year.

Introduced were: committee chairman, Bernice Schutte; treasurer and awards chairman, Mike Schutte; secretary and committee member, Mary Hagen; photographer, Carolyn Sykes; Den 2 leader, Bonnie Hunter; Den 3 leader, Eleanor Frazier;

Den 5 leader, Pam Winn; Webelos leader, John Hagen II; and assistant Webelos leader, Jack Frazier.

As the costumed cubs marched around the gym, judges Eva Abbott, Joey Donaldson, John Hagen II, Jim Reader, Ginny Risenhoover and Jo Ellen Toth picked the winners.

In the most original category, the first place ribbon went to Aaron Colp as a Gennie, second place to John Hagen III as a scarecrow and third place ribbon went to John Jaros as a boxer. Ribbons awarded in the funniest category went to Mark Hunter, first place as a "Pepper," second place went to Rich Reader as a bum and third place was earned by Craig Sykes as a rock singer.

In the scariest category, ribbons were awarded to Nicky Drago, first place as a vampire; second place went to Harold Krohne as a dragon and third place was awarded to Jeff Wakeford as a redefined creature.

After the contest, each den leader set up a game for the cubs to play. The most popular game was the "apple dunking game." Refreshments were served by the parents of the Webelos den.

Half of Vietnam veterans still eligible for GI Bill benefits

Half of all veterans who served during the Vietnam War are still eligible for GI Bill education benefits, according to Veterans Administration statistics.

Although 65 percent of the 9 million-plus veterans of the Vietnam Era have used the GI Bill, VA estimates that more than five million are still entitled to some or all of the training time they earned.

The estimate is based on the number of veterans who have not reached the tenth anniversary of their separation from military service when, by law, their GI Bill education rights expire.

"VA is eager that veterans know that training must be completed within this ten-year period," Donald R. Ramsey, director of the VA regional office in Chicago said. "It is a waste to allow this valuable entitlement to slip by."

VA predicts that 887,000 veterans will lose their eligibility during the 12-month period starting Oct. 1, fiscal year 1980 for the federal government.

This is eligibility that could mean up to: —45 months of financial assistance for school or college, farm or on-the-job training or a combination of school and job training;

—$725 in earnings a semester through VA's work-study program if the veteran is in college full-time;

—$925 tutorial assistance if the veteran is deficient in a required subject; and, —$2,500 in low-interest direct loans an academic year, based upon financial need.

Since 1944, when the first GI Bill became law, Americans have invested some $49 billion to train 7.8 million World War II veterans, 2.4 million Korean Conflict veterans and 7.5 million Vietnam Era and post-Korean veterans, and active duty personnel.

VA predicts the total number of trainees under the active bill will surpass the WW II number early in fiscal year 1981.

Fifty percent of WW II and 42 percent of Korean Conflict veterans used their GI Bills. VA estimates that by the end of 1984 more than half the veterans eligible today will have passed the ten-year benefit limit.

"While many have reached their educational goal and more than one million will train this year," the VA regional office director said, "we urge veterans with entitlement to start a program early enough to complete it before time runs out."

Veterans in the midst of training lose their right to VA payment ten years after their separation dates and all activities under the current bill cease Dec. 31, 1989.
